Preamble:

A One-day National Webinar on Plant tissue culture techniques: present and future prospects were conducted on 13th June 2022 from 11:00 am to 12:30 pm at Jengraimukh College, Majuli in order to spread the knowledge about Tissue culture techniques among the Intellectual class of Faculties, Researchers and students to know present and future prospects of tissue culture techniques.

Participant's Profile:

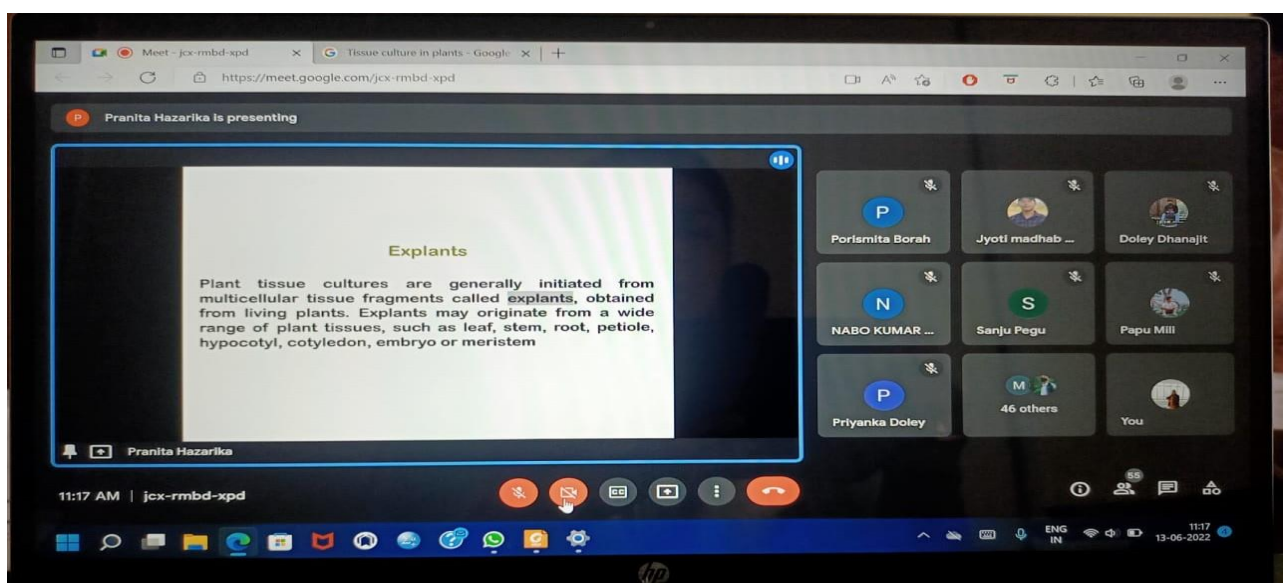

Around 55 participants participated in the webinar.

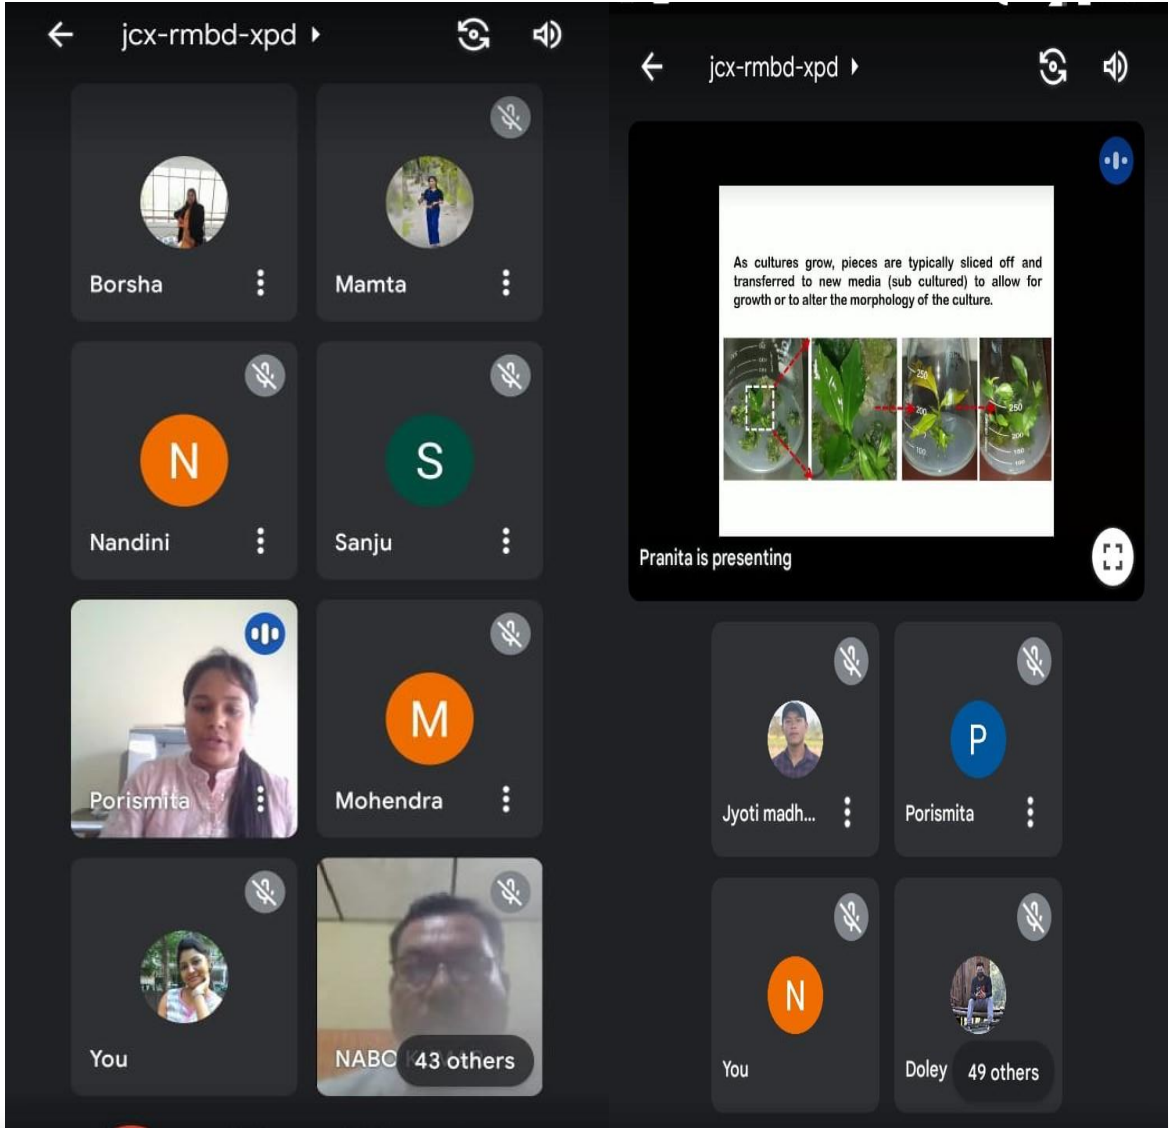

Description of the Programme:

A Webinar on Plant Tissue culture technique: present and future prospect was organized at Jengraimukh College, Majuli on 13/06/2022. The workshop was organized by the Department of Botany, Jengraimukh College, in association with IQAC, Jengraimukh College. Over 55 participants attended the Webinar. The event started with a welcome speech delivered by coordinator Porismita Borah. The webinar was graced and inaugurated by Honourable Dr. Nabo Kumar Pegu, Principal, Jengraimukh College, Majuli at 11.10 am with an inaugural speech. During his inaugural speech, honourable Principal sir emphasized the importance of Tissue culture techniques, their relevance in these times, and their necessity for advancing research and development in India. The background of the webinar and introduction of the resource person was given by Porismita Borah. The resource person Miss Pranita Hazarika spoke on the topic of 'Plant Tissue Culture Technique: Present and Future Prospects'. She spoke on different techniques used to maintain or grow plant cells, tissues or organs under sterile conditions. She also spoke on the use of different media to grow explants and on the commonly used media i.e., Murashige and Skoog medium. She shared a presentation where she displayed a few pictures of tissue culture-derived tea plants from her research work. The plants were in the hardening stage. She emphasized the need and importance of tissue culture and also on its future prospects. This session ended at 12.05 pm followed by 10 minutes of interaction with participants.

The workshop was concluded at 12.30 pm with a vote of thanks by Coordinator Borsha Tamuly. The Workshop was highly informative to faculties, research scholars and students. Faculties and students from other departments, colleges, universities and research institutes from different parts of India participated in the webinar. Thus, the webinar helped in providing valuable awareness and insights into the various aspects of Tissue culture techniques.
